Windsor Locks, CT - Oct. 9, 2018 – The Connecticut Airport Authority (CAA) is pleased to announce that Condé Nast Traveler today released the results of its 31st annual Readers' Choice Awards with Bradley International Airport recognized as the 3rd best airport in the U.S.

"We are very honored to be recognized among some of our nation's best airports," said Tony Sheridan, Chair of the Connecticut Airport Authority Board of Directors. "Recognition like this elevates our brand not only regionally, but also nationally and internationally, and I'd like to thank the entire CAA staff for everything they do to make Bradley International Airport one of the very best in the country."

Travelers gave the airport high marks for “convenient on-site parking, plentiful charging stations and free Wi-Fi, decent restaurant options, and an overall relaxed atmosphere.”

“We are thankful that the support of Bradley’s loyal, growing passenger base has again earned us a spot in the list of top ten US airports, and we’re especially pleased with the improved ranking this year,” said Kevin A. Dillon, A.A.E., Executive Director of the Connecticut Airport Authority. “This prestigious recognition is a testament to our continuous commitment to enhancing the travel experience at Bradley International Airport. We’re very proud of our efforts to make Bradley Airport the best it can be for our passengers, and we thank them for their vote of confidence.”

Recent upgrades include the addition of Two Roads Tap Room, Escape Lounge, a Phillips Seafood restaurant, a duty-free shop, and a mother’s nursing room – and more improvements are underway. Additionally, the expansion of the airport’s route network continues to be a priority, and the airport most recently celebrated the launch of its latest nonstop to St. Louis.

Nearly half a million Condé Nast Traveler readers submitted a recording-breaking number of responses rating their travel experiences to provide a full snapshot of where and how we travel today.
