Breeze Airways Launching Service from Bradley International Airport to Two South Carolina Destinations

Introducing nonstop flights to Myrtle Beach and Greenville-Spartanburg

Windsor Locks, CONN. – January 23, 2024 – The Connecticut Airport Authority is pleased to announce that low-cost carrier Breeze Airways will be launching nonstop seasonal service from Bradley International Airport (BDL) to Myrtle Beach International Airport (MYR) and Greenville-Spartanburg International Airport (GSP). Details for these new routes are as follows:

- Myrtle Beach: Beginning May 2, will operate on Thursdays and Sundays
- Greenville-Spartanburg: Beginning May 24, will operate on Mondays and Fridays

“The list of nonstop destinations served by Breeze Airways from Bradley International Airport continues to grow – offering travelers in our region more options at low-cost prices,” said Kevin A. Dillon, A.A.E., Connecticut Airport Authority Executive Director. “Myrtle Beach and Greenville-Spartanburg are great destinations to consider for spring and summer travel plans.”

This most recent announcement follows news of the airline’s plans to launch additional seasonal, nonstop service in May from BDL to Orlando and Cincinnati. As well as San Diego and Santa Ana, CA, as part of the airline’s BreezeThru service, which includes one stop, but passengers do not have to change planes.

“Since we started flying from Hartford in May 2021, Breeze has continued to add desirable destinations to our rapidly growing footprint,” said Breeze CEO and Founder David Neeleman. “These two new additions to South Carolina will surely be welcomed as we bring efficient, affordable and elevated travel to more underserved markets.”
